

FactoryLook 6.0 provides a scalable enterprise manufacturing intelligence platform. Is capable of managing all equipment operations and all workflow processes required for manufacturing operations. Open architecture offers access to data and enables communications and data flow between internal and external systems. New features include management of large volumes of complex data; Manufacturing Intelligence is actionable in real-time; equipment and recipe management tools; multiple views into interactive dashboards; roles-based dashboards for operations management, and brand integration with PLCs, SCADA, and DCS equipment.

Vistrian, www.vistrian.com